Assumptions

Checking References & Hiring is Stage 4 of the Recruiting & Hiring Process.

This guide assumes you've completed Stages 1 to 3. In other words:

- ◆ You've short-listed and interviewed candidates for the open position
- ◆ You've selected a final candidate
- ◆ You've created a TA-MGR-5520-M. Position Applicant Tracking Spreadsheet for the position and used it to:
 - Record candidates short-listed for each round of interviews
 - Summarize ratings and feedback on each candidate in each round of interviews
 - Identify which candidate was selected for the position
 - Identify which unselected candidates should be considered for other or future positions
- ◆ You're ready to check references and extend an offer.

Supporting Documents

There are a number of templates and guides available to support you through the reference checking and hiring process. The rest of this Guide describes when to use each one, but they're all listed below for quick reference.

Click on an icon in the table below to open that document.

Note: The Doc ID column contains a unique identifier for all our HR documents. Think of it like a bar code you don't have to pay attention to, unless you want to double-check you have the right document.

Explain the next steps to the successful candidate:

- ♦ Testing (if applicable for the position) CUSTOMIZER: Remove this step if not applicable for your Company
- ♦ Reference checking
- ♦ Introduction to additional key staff members (where appropriate)
- ♦ Assuming all goes well, presentation of an offer.

Step 2. Administer Testing (where applicable)

CUSTOMIZER: Remove this section if not applicable for your Company, or modify to fit your practices

Pre-employment testing can be controversial, but we sometimes use it in our Company to minimize the risk of hiring someone who is the wrong fit for our culture, or doesn't have the skills required for the position.

We must be cautious which tests we use—they must be valid, reliable and not conflict with any employment laws. Hiring Managers may request or recommend pre-employment testing, but HR decides whether a test is administered and if so, which one.

Guidelines for testing eligibility:

- ♦ CUSTOMIZER: Example: Candidates for Director level roles and above are eligible for CUSTOMIZER: Example: behavior profile testing.
- ♦ CUSTOMIZER: Example: Software developers are eligible for CUSTOMIZER: Example: code testing.

CUSTOMIZER: Example: Administrative staff are eligible for CUSTOMIZER: Example: Microsoft® Word® and Excel® testing

MANAGER

1. Consult with HR to find out if the position requires or permits pre-employment testing.
2. If it does, find out which test(s) will be administered and tell the candidate HR will be in touch to set up a time. If there are no pre-employment tests for the position, skip this step and begin the reference checking process.
3. If testing is required, be prepared for the possibility that the candidate may be raise concerns about taking the tests, or even object. Work with HR in advance to be clear on the strategy in the event this occurs.

- b. Browse to the Position folder and open the 7.0 Contractual or Scanned Signed Documents sub-folder.
- c. In the Save as type field, select Text Only (*.txt) from the drop-down menu.
- d. In the File name field, include the date, candidate name, and “references and consent”, for example: 2018_01_19_Mary_Smith_References_and_Consent.
- e. Click Save. This ensures that HR has access to the file and can transfer it to the candidate’s employee file if hired.

Step 4. Create Reference Check Form

MANAGER HR

2. Customize the form as required. If you have questions, refer to the associated CR-ALL-2820-I. Instructions – Reference Check Form.
3. Populate the form with interview questions.
 - Refer to the PC-ALL-2810-M. Reference Check Questions document to help you get started.
 - Work together to select questions. HR should conduct at least one of the reference checks to assess cultural fit of the candidate with the company. The other reference checks can be done by either the Hiring Manager or HR, as you wish.

MANAGER

1. Communicate ‘No thank you’ to any remaining unsuccessful candidates with whom you have not yet communicated. Use the scripts provided in IV-MGR-2560-R. Internal Candidate Regrets Scripts and IV-MGR-2570-R. External Candidate Regrets Scripts as a starting point for your email, letter or phone call.
 - a. Open the Position Applicant Tracking Spreadsheet and click on the Regrets & Potential worksheet tab.
 - b. Review the 3 Unsuccessful Candidates Informed columns. Make sure there’s a “yes” entry for every candidate on the list except the one selected for the position.
 - c. Contact any unsuccessful external candidates who have not yet been informed. The recommended method of contact varies depending on how far an individual made it through the screening process.
 - External candidates interviewed by phone can be notified by email.
 - External candidates who participated in Round 1 interviews can be notified by email or phone.
 - External candidates who participated in Round 2 interviews are notified by phone, not email. When you make the phone call, make sure you have enough time to talk to candidate and answer questions.
 - d. Internal candidates must be notified in person.
 - Arrange a time to talk to the candidate in private, and give him/her a chance to ask questions.
 - Internal candidates also receive a hand-delivered letter on company letterhead, notifying them of the decision.
 - A copy of the letter is saved in the position sub-folder that represents the highest interview level they reached (e.g., Interviews – Round 1). A copy of the letter is forwarded to HR for the employee’s file.
2. Update the Regrets & Potential worksheet tab of the Position Applicant Tracking Spreadsheet to reflect that all candidates have been contacted.
3. Review the Future Potential columns of the worksheet and add or revise notes regarding candidates who should be considered for other or future positions in the Company.
4. Notify HR that the Position Applicant Tracking Spreadsheet has been updated and can be used to update the TA-HR-5510-X. HR Master Applicant Spreadsheet.

TIP: Put your Sales & Marketing Hat on!

If you’re interested in a candidate, stay in regular contact—just like you would with a prospective customer! Think of recruiting as a sales and marketing function.

MANAGER HR

1. The Hiring Manager and HR meet to discuss the details of the offer.
2. HR prepares the offer letter and any accompanying materials.
3. The Hiring Manager reviews and approves the offer.
4. HR leads the negotiation with the candidate and liaises with the Hiring Manager as needed.
5. Allow the candidate adequate time to review the offer and ask questions. One-to-two days is usually sufficient.

Once an offer has been accepted, open a new employee folder for the candidate and populate it with the relevant documents from the recruiting and hiring process.

HR

1. Create a sub-folder for the new hire in 14.0_Employee_Files folder.
2. Copy the following files from the open Position folder to the Pre-Hire sub-folder of the new employee's folder:

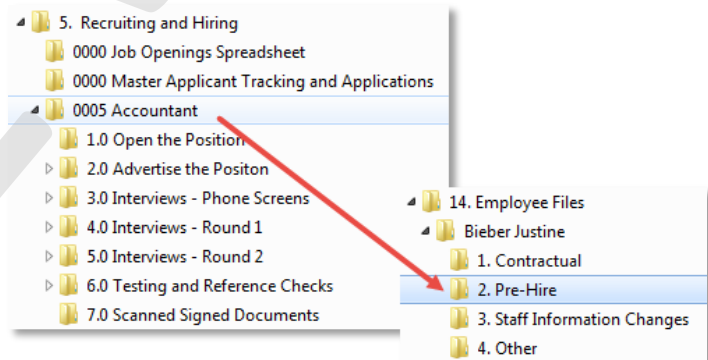

- The new hire's original application, or cover letter and resume
- From the Open the Position folder: the Job Description Form and the Probationary Review Form created when the position was opened.

- From Advertise the Position folder: the final Job Posting.

- From the three Interviews folders: all completed questionnaires and notes from the Phone Screen, Round 1 and Round 2 interviews with the finalist.

- From the Testing and Reference Checks folder: completed Reference Check Forms and testing files relating to the new hire.

- From the Scanned Signed Documents folder. Any non-disclosure or written permission documents pertaining to the finalist (for example, consent to contact references).

- S – Posting Close Date: Enter the current date.
 - W – Position Filled By: Enter name of successful candidate.
 - X – Recruitment Closed Date: Enter date the candidate was hired. This will automatically calculate the number of days it took to fill the position.
 - Z – New Hire Start Date: Enter the date the new hire will start.
 - AA – Starting Base Salary: Enter the new hire’s starting base salary.
 - AC to AF – Recruiting Costs: Update the recruiting costs columns to reflect any additional costs incurred since the position was first advertised. If the successful candidate was originally referred by an existing employee, record the amount of the employee referral bonus paid, if applicable.
 - AH – Recruiting Source: Enter the name of the website, online location, individual, agency, etc. where the new hire learned of the open position.
3. Change the position folder label from “open” to “closed”.
- a. Location the position folder in the master recruiting folder.
 - b. Change the position folder name so it starts with “C” (for Closed).

This way, the folders for open positions are always displayed at the top of the list and folders for closed positions are grouped at the bottom.

Step 4. Obtain Feedback from Candidates

It’s valuable to solicit feedback from interviewed candidates to understand how our recruitment process can be improved, and demonstrate that their experience is important to us.

➤ HR

2. Randomly choose 1-3 applicants that participated in telephone interviews, or Round 1 or Round 2 in-person interviews.
3. Email them individually and ask them to participate in a survey to provide feedback on their experience with us. CUSTOMIZER: Add more about how the survey is done, e.g., via email or an online survey tool.
